Sir

With reference to your D.M
No 415 of the 18th June 1897 on official Memo No 1271 of the 10th Idem from the Muzrai Secretary, calling for a report regarding the Pattabhi Ramaswamy temple at Nelamané, I have the honor to state as follows:—

The temple of Sri Pattabhi Rama-swami is situated in the Nelamané village. Patel Varsimké Gowda and others

others repaired it from private funds. The temple enjoys no inam lands. Patel Varsimhe' Gonda has employed one Tirunengadupingar, son of Sthanik Emburmanar of Melkote, for performing kija and both for Vinédana for Pattabhi Ramaswami and maintenance of the pujari he has assigned two wet lands as noted in the margin which yield 10 Candies of paddy annually to the temple.

2. The villagers are said to give annually one Kolaga of paddy each during the harvest season and to pay one fanam to the temple on every marriage occasion.

3. The Pujari lives in a house built for him in the Kelamané village at the house of Varsimhe' Gonda.

4. The villagers including the Patel have given 208 Rupees worth

1. Wet land no 186 measuring 1 acre 19 guntas assessed at Rs 87.
1. Palki no 2 Out of no 210 wet, measuring 18 guntas assessed at Rs 2.12-0, both situated in the Kelamané village.

of jewels &c to the deity and they are kept in the temple under the custody of the Pujari, there being no Kavalgar.

5. The Puja services are regularly performed. The villagers pray that the temple and its lands valued at Rs 800/ together with the jewels may be taken under Government management and suitable arrangements made for the regular and proper performance of puja therein.

6. It is a question whether the return from the best lands, viz 10 Candies of paddy is sufficient for the maintenance of the temple in a proper condition. A daily Nivedanum will require 1 Seer of rice or 6 Candies of paddy per annum. The balance of 4 Candies is all that is left for the maintenance of the Pujari and to meet incidental expenses. Some provision will ^{also} be required for a Kavalgar and for the repairs of the temple.

7. I have seen the temple. It is well kept and puja is regularly performed.

The Deputy Amildar's report is enclosed.

I have &c
